Trump threatens to bomb Oman over Hormuz issue

President Donald Trump said that the US is not seeking an extension of 60-day MOU with Iran that ended on Monday

Reuters
letters@hindustantimes.com

WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump said on Monday that Iran should surrender to end a war with the US as talks between the countries remained stalled.

"They should put up the white flag of surrender," Trump told a Fox News reporter during a phone interview.

An interim deal agreed to in June declared an "immediate and permanent termination of military operations on all fronts", but quickly unraveled, with Trump saying it was "over" on July 7 and Iran's foreign ministry declaring it "suspended" a week later.

Under that memorandum of understanding (MOU), Iran and the US committed to negotiating a final deal — covering broader issues such as the fate of Iran's nuclear programme — in a maximum of 60 days, extendable by mutual consent. Monday marked 60 days since the MOU was signed.

Oman-Iran talks

Separately, Oman and Iran have been in talks to try to reach an agreement to restore commercial shipping in the Strait of Hormuz, which carried 20% of the world's oil and liquefied natural gas supplies before the US-Israeli attacks on Iran began in late February.

"If Oman gets in the way, we'll bomb the s out of them," Trump told Fox.

The dispute over control of the Strait of Hormuz has driven up fuel prices and put pressure on Trump to end a war that is unpopular at home ahead of the November midterm elections that will decide control of the US Congress.

Trump told Fox News that the midterms were not impacting his strategy on Iran. "Midterms have nothing to do with my thinking," he said.

Earlier on Monday, Trump posted on his Truth Social platform: "The number one Goal is, and always will be, that Iran cannot have, in any way, shape, or form, a Nuclear Weapon," repeating one of his stated rationales for the war.

Saudi-Turkey-Pak defence pact a 'big, bold' step, says Trump

WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump has termed the Saudi Arabia-Turkey-Pakistan defence agreement a "big, bold and important first step" towards defending themselves in a "more meaningful way".

Trump's remarks on Sunday came days after the three nations signed the Mecca Joint Defence Agreement — holding any armed offensive against any of the three countries an attack against all of them.

"Very happy to see that Saudi Arabia, Turkey, and Pakistan have recently, and finally, signed the Mecca Joint Defence Agreement. It shows how the Middle East is coming together, and how countries will finally be able to defend themselves in a more meaningful way," Trump said in a post on Truth Social. "Congratulations to the Great Leadership of the three Nations mentioned. THIS IS A BIG, BOLD, AND IMPORTANT FIRST STEP — WOW."

The agreement was signed on August 7 by Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman, Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan and Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif. PTI

KUSHNER'S TALKS WITH ISRAEL, HAMAS END WITHOUT ANY PROGRESS

JERUSALEM: Donald Trump's envoy and son-in-law Jared Kushner on Monday wrapped up two days of meetings with Israeli and Hamas leaders to break a stalemate over the US president's Gaza plan, but there were no signs of an imminent breakthrough as both sides dug in.

Kushner met Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu in Israel a day after meeting Hamas' political leader in Egypt in a bid to revive the plan, which has stalled as Israel has carried out airstrikes and seized more territory in Gaza despite an October ceasefire, while Hamas has refused to give up its weapons.

The Hamas group said it agreed to the roadmap but implementation depended on Israel first meeting its own commitments, including halting attacks and withdrawing. REUTERS

SHIPPING VIA HORMUZ SLOWS FOLLOWING ATTACKS ON TANKERS

SINGAPORE: Shipping through the Strait of Hormuz slowed over the weekend, data showed on Monday, following attacks on tankers, while US-Iran talks to resolve the Middle East conflict stalled. Five commodity vessels transited the strait on Saturday, with none registered for Sunday, shiptracking data from Kpler showed, versus 31 in the prior weekend.

Ships entering the strait on Saturday included an empty Very Large Crude Carrier with its Automatic Identification System switched off and an Indian-flagged Very Large Gas Carrier that used the Iranian route, Kpler data showed.

Shipping appeared to grind to a near standstill after the United Arab Emirates said three vessels operated by the Abu Dhabi National Oil Company were attacked in transit last week. REUTERS

UK PM exchanged messages with top Trump aide imposter

Bloomberg, AP & PTI
letters@hindustantimes.com

LONDON: UK Prime Minister Andy Burnham exchanged messages with somebody impersonating one of Donald Trump's closest advisers, according to people familiar with the matter.

Britain's new premier communicated with someone posing as White House Chief of Staff Susie Wiles, the people familiar said, speaking on condition of anonymity.

"We do not comment on national security matters," 10 Downing Street said in a statement. The communications were first reported by Politico on Monday morning.

Politico cited four unnamed officials in first reporting that Burnham thought he was messaging with Susie Wiles before he became suspicious and cut off communications.

Burnham, who took charge at 10 Downing Street on July 20, is said to have engaged with the spurious messages in the days before and after assuming his new role.

Andy Burnham, Susie Wiles

Politico quoted a person briefed on the communications that a "few messages" were exchanged but insisted they were "of no significance" and were "quickly" reported to the appropriate authorities once their suspicious nature became clear.

The communication between Burnham and the person posing as Wiles is believed to have been only in the form of messages, with no conversation having taken place. The British embassy in Washington was concerned enough about the incident that it raised the matter with the White House, Politico reported officials, who preferred to remain anonymous, as saying.

The White House said the incident had nothing to do with Wiles' devices being hacked.

Last year, the White House and the Federal Bureau of Investigation launched an investigation after US senators, governors and business executives received texts and phone calls from someone claiming to be Trump's chief of staff.

The Wall Street Journal reported at the time that Wiles told associates that her cellphone contacts had been hacked.

"Nobody can impersonate Susie. There's only one Susie," Trump said at the time.

LONG-AWAITED TRIAL BEGINS IN TUPAC SHAKUR'S 1996 KILLING

LAS VEGAS: Opening statements began on Monday in the trial of a man accused of orchestrating the killing of rapper Tupac Shakur, the start of weeks of testimony revisiting what happened on the night of September 7, 1996 in Las Vegas.

Duane "Keffe D" Davis, 63, is charged with murder with a deadly weapon with the intent to promote, further or assist a criminal gang in Shakur's death. He pleaded not guilty, but if convicted, faces life in prison. Davis entered the courtroom in a blue suit and tie and scanned the audience to see who was there before sitting next to his lawyer Michael Sanft once the jury was sworn in and seated.

Shakur remains a cultural icon and is considered one of the most influential and versatile rappers of all time, despite dying at 25. AP & AFP

Black academic death: Cambridge head slams 'racist feeding frenzy'

Agence France-Presse
letters@hindustantimes.com

LONDON: The head of Cambridge university on Monday condemned a "racist feeding frenzy" prompted by plagiarism claims against black academic Jason Arday, as his supporters prepared for a London vigil after his death last week.

Arday, who became Cambridge's youngest ever black professor in 2023, was found dead on Friday aged 41, following multiple plagiarism accusations.

Chris Smith, the University of Cambridge's chancellor, told the BBC he believed it was important for such claims to be "rigorously investigated".

But he added it was right to "refuse to join in a racist feeding frenzy over a particular academic", without naming Arday directly.

Jason Arday AP

Arday, the professor of sociology of education at the prestigious university in eastern England, resigned August 5 after accusations he had plagiarised parts of his doctoral thesis and exaggerated personal achievements prompted a media storm.
