Fires at Saudi oil facilities after wave of Houthi attacks

At least 70 injured as Houthis push Bab al-Mandab offensive in Red Sea

CAIRO

THE Iranian-backed Houthi rebel group in Yemen launched a wave of attacks on Saudi Arabia on Tuesday, wounding more than 70 people and igniting fires at oil facilities and utilities in the kingdom, authorities said, as deadly fighting reignited in Yemen after a Houthi offensive towards the Red Sea's Bab al-Mandab chokepoint.

The attacks hit "civilian and economic facilities" in the Saudi cities of Abha, Jazan, Najran and Khamis Mushait, said Maj. Gen. Turki al-Malki, a spokesperson for the Saudi-led coalition fighting in Yemen. Al-Malki said the wounded included women and children. The Houthis later said Saudi Arabia retaliated with strikes.

The rapid round of strikes and counter-strikes follows the unravelling of a four-year truce between the Houthis and the Saudi-backed government in July, as Yemen became the latest country to be drawn into the West Asian war.

On Thursday, the Houthis launched a campaign to control the narrow Bab al-Mandab strait, an increasingly important route for Saudi oil after Iran blockaded the Strait of Hormuz, slowing Gulf exports to a trickle. The fighting has left more than 500 people dead, mostly combatants from both sides, according to an AFP tally based on sources from each camp. Houthi attacks on oil infrastructure and Saudi tankers are piling pressure on the world's top oil exporter, already beset by blockades on two key straits.

The rebels declared a maritime blockade of the kingdom and began attacking Saudi ships starting in July. This has squeezed Saudi exports, already reeling from Iran's closure of the Strait of Hormuz. Oil prices leapt towards $100 a barrel on Tuesday.

"Saudi aggression" hit Taiz province, where deadly fighting has raged for days, and Marib province, the Houthis' Almasirah TV station said. There was no immediate comment from the Saudis.

Overnight, Houthi attacks caused "temporary" shutdowns at oil sites and left 73 injured, Saudi authorities said. Saudi officials had vowed to respond.

Since the rebels launched their campaign on Thursday, at least 216 government forces and 278 Houthi fighters have been killed, according to sources from both sides who requested anonymity to discuss sensitive matters. At least 29 civilians have also been killed. Agencies

Technical issue grounds flights across UK airports

LONDON

A "technical issue" affecting air traffic control grounded hundreds of flights at airports across the UK on Tuesday, including cancellations and delays of long-haul flights to and from India.

National Air Traffic Services (NATS), the UK's leading provider of air traffic control and airspace management, said that it had identified the issue in its flight processing system and implemented a fix.

However, the knock-on effect of the delays is expected to last several hours and even spill over into Wednesday. "We have implemented a fix and our flight system is starting to recover," NATS said. PTI

12 nations impose sanctions on West Bank settlements

LONDON

TWELVE countries including Britain, Canada and France announced they would sanction trade with Israeli settlements in the West Bank, after increasing attacks by settlers against Palestinians in the occupied territory.

WAR WATCH

Denmark, Finland, Iceland, Ireland, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Spain, and Sweden also plan to issue restrictions on trade with the settlements, the nations' foreign ministers said in a joint statement.

The action follows weeks of increasing attacks by Israeli settlers against Palestinian villages in the illegally occupied territory that has drawn widespread condemnation from the international community.

Ireland and Spain have already taken measures against trade with Israeli settlements, and France has for weeks been pushing for a similar decision from the European Union, Israel's leading trading partner, but has been blocked by some members.

The 12 ministers said actions by the Israeli government in the West Bank was "undermining the possibility of a two-state solution" referring to a plan under which two states, one Israeli and one Palestinian would live side by side.

"The situation is rapidly deteriorating amid unprecedented levels of settler violence and settlement expansion," they warned. AFP
