Centre pleads for prospective effect of SC creamy layer ruling

Seeks 2 Yrs To Implement New Policy

Retrospective implementation of the judgement would cause a cascading effect on civil servants appointed from 2012, govt told SC

New Delhi: Facing the task of implementing Supreme Court's ruling on calculating creamy layer criteria for OBC reservation from the retrospective date of 2012, Centre pleaded with the court to make the enforcement of the verdict prospective and grant it two years' time to implement it.

The court had in March held that the income of parents could not be the sole criterion to determine the creamy layer of a candidate for exclusion from OBC reservation, and status and category of a parent's job had to be considered with an 'income/wealth test' as an additional criterion. It made the verdict implementable from 2012, when the case was first filed.

In a written note filed by additional solicitor general Aishwarya Bhati, govt submitted that the retrospective application of a changed eligibility criterion may unsettle appointments and admissions made under the rules and certificates prevailing at the time and create uncertainty regarding OBC-NCL status, seniority, service conditions and career progression.

"The retrospective implementation of the present judgement would create changes in candidates' service and cadre allocation... as it would affect the services of persons appointed on the basis of CSE-2012 onward and cause a cascading effect among civil servants... The aforementioned cascading effect will impact not only OBC candidates but also reverberate across all categories including (unreserved category) of the civil services," the note said.

Govt said a reasonable time of two years should be given to it to undertake the necessary exercise of establishing equivalence of posts, after consulting all the stakeholders and formulating a uniform policy/mechanism for determination of OBC creamy layer status.

"Union of India is only praying for a limited deferral of the operationalisation of the law laid down by this hon'ble court for a period of two years so that the competing rights can be adjusted consistent with the administrative contingencies and an effective equivalence exercise is carried out," it said.

BJP spent 54% of total expense in 5 assembly polls

Times News Network

New Delhi: BJP spent Rs 287 crore on its campaign and candidates during the April 2026 polls in West Bengal, which accounted for more than 54% of its total expenditure of Rs 529 crore in five assembly elections earlier this year, according to statements filed with EC.

Besides Bengal, polls were held in Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Assam and Puducherry.

BJP trumped the governing TMC in Bengal, bagging 207 of the 293 seats while Trinamool managed 80.

Congress, which contested all 293 seats in Bengal, spent Rs 42 crore, according to election expenditure reports submitted before EC. It won two seats in Bengal. CPM won only one seat, and incurred expenditure of Rs 8 crore in Bengal. TMC is yet to submit its report to EC.

In Keralam, Congress spent Rs 105 crore and won 63 seats, ousting the CPM-led front which managed only 26. BJP won three seats despite high-pitch campaigning and an expenditure of Rs 83 crore. CPM spent Rs 29 crore in Keralam.

Congress reported spending Rs 249 crore across all five elections, against CPM's consolidated expenditure of Rs 39 crore. BJP reported spending Rs 96 crore in Assam, Rs 52 crore in Tamil Nadu and Rs 12 crore in Puducherry, besides its outlays in Bengal and Kerala.

Earlier, BJP in its expenditure and income report showed party's central headquarters received Rs 1,473 crore during the election period, while Congress reported Rs 207 crore in receipts across its headquarters and five state units.

BJP's central office alone ended the election period with Rs 7,627 crore, up from Rs 6,722.60 crore when polls were announced. Congress's combined balance across its headquarters and five state units fell from Rs 169 crore to Rs 103 crore in the same period.

Ruckus as Omar moves resolution for statehood restoration in House

Srinagar: Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister Omar Abdullah on Friday moved a resolution in the assembly to seek urgent restoration of full statehood to the union territory, leading to ugly scenes in the House and even fist fights.

Members of the opposition BJP stormed the well of the House in protest, and angry words broke out between them and legislators of the ruling National Conference (NC).

Speaker Abdul Rahim Rather later adjourned the House when his repeated pleas asking the MLAs to go back to their seats went unheeded.

BJP MLAs protested against the resolution, which has a reference to the autonomy resolution moved by the NC government in June 2000 when Jammu and Kashmir was a state.

It reads: "In addition to the resolutions passed by this House on 26 June 2000 and 6 November 2024, the House calls upon the Government of India for the immediate and urgent restoration of full statehood to Jammu and Kashmir and resolves that this resolution be forwarded to the Government of India."

The NC-led government headed by Farooq Abdullah had passed the resolution on June 26, 2000 for restoration of greater autonomy as existed before August 9, 1953.

On November 6, 2024, the house passed a resolution seeking the restoration of special status.

As soon as Omar Abdullah tabled the resolution on Friday, the treasury benches welcomed it with thumping of desks. However, the reference to the 2000 resolution triggered protests from BJP members.

"We will not allow discussion on the issue of autonomy in the House," BJP MLA R S Pathania said. BJP MLAs alleged that rules were flouted as the chief minister read the resolution even before tabling it in the House and tore copies of the resolution. Several MLAs got into heated arguments as the pandemonium continued. Speaking on the resolution, the chief minister said the House should debate and pass this resolution in one voice as denial of statehood has proven to be extremely detrimental to Jammu and Kashmir. Elderly man killed in elephant attack in Jharkhand's Simdega Simdega: An elderly man was trampled to death by an elephant in Jharkhand's Simdega district on Friday evening, police said. The incident took place in Dumaria panchayat under Bano police station limits. Bano police station officer-in-charge Shyam Nandan Singh told reporters that Dagar Singh (69) was attacked by the elephant when he was going towards his farmland. "His family members took him to a nearby community health centre where doctors declared him dead. We have informed the authorities concerned for payment of compensation to family members of the deceased," Singh said. The Jharkhand government provides a compensation of Rs 4 lakh for deaths caused by elephant attacks. The body has been kept at Simdega Sadar Hospital for post-mortem examination, the officer added.
