Audio clip released by Jarange: Fadnavis orders forensic probe

Minister Uday Samant says allegations an attempt to create discord among the Marathas

Express News Service
Mumbai, October 23

CHIEF MINISTER Devendra Fadnavis on Friday ordered a probe using forensic analysis to find the authenticity of the purported audio clip released by Maratha reservation activist Manoj Jarange Patil, claiming that it backs his allegation against Deputy Chief Minister Eknath Shinde.

Jarange had alleged that Shinde arranged for Rs 500 crore to be paid to him, through his son Shiv Sena MP Shrikant Shinde, to end his agitation.

Speaking to mediapersons in Nagpur, Fadnavis said, "I have ordered a forensic probe. The matter will be thoroughly investigated to find its authenticity. Even Jarange Patil has demanded investigation. The Shiv Sena leaders and ministers had met me seeking a thorough probe." "The question is why has such audio clip surfaced after 2.5 years. What was the motive and whom are they targeting, " Fadnavis said, adding that the party has nothing to hide on such matters.

On Thursday, Sena Minister Uday Samant urged Fadnavis to order a detailed investigation by the forensic laboratory and cyber cell into the audio clip, claiming that it appeared to be an attempt to create discord within the Maratha community.

He alleged that the individuals heard in the conversation were associated with the BJP and called for their voice samples to be examined by a forensic laboratory.

He further alleged that the clip was part of a conspiracy to defame Shinde and MP Shrikant Shinde.

Samant said some voices in the recording appeared to resemble those of Shweta Shalini, who is associated with the BJP's social media operations, BJP MLA Atul Bhatkhalkar and YouTuber Sushil Kulkarni.

Why has Jarange turned against Shinde? From a glass of juice to a Rs 500-cr row

Zeeshan Shaikh
Mumbai, October 23

IN SEPTEMBER 2023, Eknath Shinde offered Manoj Jarange-Patil a glass of fruit juice as the Maratha reservation activist ended his 17-day hunger strike. The meeting at Antarwali Sarati in Jalna district was a breakthrough for the then Chief Minister, who had persuaded Jarange-Patil to call off his agitation.

"I have maintained since day one that my belief is that only Eknath Shinde can give justice to the Maratha community," Jarange-Patil said on September 14, 2023. He also expressed confidence that Shinde could take the decision needed to secure reservation.

Three years later, Jarange-Patil is accusing Shinde of being linked to an alleged attempt to buy his silence. At a rally in Beed on October 20, he claimed that Shinde had told BJP leaders that Rs 500 crore had been paid to him to stop his agitation. He also questioned whether the money had been routed through Shinde's son, Shiv Sena MP Shrikant Shinde.

On October 22, Jarange-Patil released a purported audio recording that he claimed supported his allegations. The recording has not been independently authenticated, and the allegation of a payment remains unproven. Shinde has denied giving or receiving any such money.

On Thursday, Jarange-Patil played a purported audio recording at a press conference in Jalna. He alleged it contained a conversation among BJP functionaries about efforts to counter his influence before the 2024 Assembly elections. FILE

When Shinde was the man who could deliver

Jarange-Patil's agitation gathered momentum after a police lathicharge at Antarwali Sarati on September 1, 2023. Shinde visited the protest site on September 14, assured him that the government would work towards reservation and persuaded him to end his fast.

The truce did not last. Jarange-Patil resumed his hunger strike in October, pressing the government to act faster. Shinde continued to hold talks with him, and in January 2024, another round of negotiations led the activist to call off his march towards Mumbai.

At this stage, Jarange-Patil was repeatedly targeting then Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis, while Shinde remained an important interlocutor in the negotiations. The Chief Minister's ability to reach an understanding with the activist helped him establish a working relationship with Patil, who left no stone unturned in praising Shinde while at the same time targeting Fadnavis.

The rupture

The first major public break came in February 2024 after Jarange-Patil accused Fadnavis of conspiring to eliminate him. Shinde responded by questioning the activist's conduct and warning him against crossing limits.

"Initially, Jarange Patil made genuine demands and was honest with his cause. But now he is constantly changing his demands. Despite that we fulfilled all the demands... now his language has changed... he is speaking the language of Opposition leaders Sharad Pawar and Uddhav Thackeray," Shinde had said in February 2024. This was one of the first instances of Shinde publicly speaking against Jarange. However, their working relationship seemed to have remained unaffected.

The political equations changed after the 2024 Assembly elections, when Fadnavis became Chief Minister and Shinde took over as Deputy Chief Minister.

In August 2025, Jarange-Patil began another hunger strike at Mumbai's Azad Maidan. The government agreed to steps involving the Hyderabad Gazetteer to help eligible Marathas establish their Kunbi lineage. Jarange-Patil called off the five day protest after negotiations and a government resolution. While the Maratha reservation issue remained unresolved, the relationship between Shinde and Patil started going downhill.

The Parbhani showdown

The distance between the two became more apparent on August 31, 2026, when Shinde attended a farmers' rally in Parbhani despite Jarange-Patil's objections. The activist, who was then on hunger strike at Antarwali Sarati, had asked Shiv Sena MP Sanjay Jadhav to cancel the programme and warned Shinde against attending.

Jadhav refused, and Shinde went ahead with the rally. Jarange-Patil's supporters raised slogans and displayed black flags at Shinde.

The episode brought the differences into the open, with Patil publicly challenging Deputy Chief Minister Shinde's political programme in Marathwada.

After ending his latest hunger strike on September 17, Jarange-Patil accused Shinde and Fadnavis of acting against the Maratha community. He alleged that cases against protesters and inquiries by government agencies were part of an effort to suppress the movement. These claims have not been established.

The Rs 500 crore allegation

The latest confrontation began with Jarange-Patil's allegation at his October 20 Dussehra rally in Beed that Shinde had told BJP leaders that Rs 500 crore had been paid to silence him.

"Whatever I heard apparently happened two and a half years ago. I have come to know from some leaders that Deputy Chief Minister Eknath Shinde told the BJP leadership that they should pay Rs 500 crore to Jarange-Patil to silence him," he said.

Shinde rejected the allegation on October 21.

"I have neither given Rs 500 crore to anyone nor taken it from anyone. On what basis is Jarange speaking? He should have verified the facts before speaking," he told reporters. He asked Jarange-Patil to submit evidence to the authorities.

On Thursday, Jarange-Patil played a purported audio recording at a press conference in Jalna. He alleged it contained a conversation among BJP functionaries about efforts to counter his influence before the 2024 Assembly elections, including references to money allegedly paid to him through Shrikant Shinde.

The disclosure has also drawn the BJP and Shinde's Shiv Sena into a public dispute. A Shiv Sena delegation met Maharashtra Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis on Thursday evening, demanding a forensic and cyber investigation, while the BJP has called for an inquiry into whether the recording is genuine or fabricated.

Maharashtra inducts over 250 Agniveers into coastal police, exempts them from fresh tests

Express News Service
Mumbai, October 23

THE MAHARASHTRA government has inducted more than 250 former Agniveers from the Indian Navy into the state's coastal police force, Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis said in Nagpur on Friday. The personnel have been exempt from fresh recruitment tests in view of their military training and service.

Fadnavis said the government had decided to accommodate Agniveers completing their four-year tenure in the armed forces if they wished to join the state police.

"These personnel have undergone extensive training and have also served along the borders. They possess considerable capabilities, making them valuable additions to the police force," he said.

The first batch inducted under the initiative comprises Navy personnel, who will strengthen maritime security. Fadnavis said the move would also help build capacity in the coastal police force, which requires specialised training to secure the state's maritime boundaries.

"We had to make some changes to the rules to accommodate them. We have done so and inducted all of them into the police force," he said.

He added that the induction would also address the need to build capacity within the coastal police force, which requires specialised training for securing the state's maritime boundaries.

Clarifying the recruitment process, Fadnavis said the appointments were made through direct recruitment, without fresh examinations.

"They have already undergone a very difficult selection process to enter the armed forces. Therefore, there was no need for them to undergo another test. Appointment orders have been issued to them directly," he said.

Last month, Fadnavis had announced that Agniveers completing their four-year military tenure would be accommodated in the Maharashtra Police and other state government forces without having to undergo fresh examinations or training.

Man beaten to death in dispute over beer bar; caught on video

Mumbai, October 23

A 35-YEAR-OLD man was killed on a busy road in Maharashtra's Chhatrapati Sambhajinagar following a dispute over providing protection to a beer bar. The incident occurred between Bajrang Chowk and Baliram Patil Chowk, near Bharat Gas and Sapna Market in the city.

The victim, identified as Devesh alias Bunty Chandresh Dixit, was riding a bike when a white Volkswagen car rammed into him from behind.

Police have said that the accused, 22-year-old Pawan Dilip Parashar, drove a short distance, took a U-turn, returned to the spot with an iron rod, and repeatedly struck Devesh on his head and face.

He fled from the crime scene after the assault, but later surrendered at the CIDCO police station. A video of the incident has now surfaced on social media.

Onlookers rushed Devesh to the Government Medical College and Hospital, where doctors declared him dead, said Police Inspector Atul Yerme Reddy.

The police have registered a murder case following a complaint from Devesh's brother.

The murder appears to have stemmed from a professional rivalry between the accused and the victim over protecting a beer bar in the city, preliminary investigation showed.

Devesh Dixit had earlier been handling disputes at the bar, including scuffles and instances of customers refusing to pay their bills. The dispute between Dixit and Parashar erupted after the bar owner assigned the responsibilities to the latter, a police officer said.

"Dixit would allegedly taunt the bar owner and the accused, saying that a 'kid' was now protecting the bar. His remarks angered Parashar, leading to a rivalry over the business," the officer said.

Police are investigating the sequence of incidents leading up to the murder and whether the victim was deliberately tracked before the attack.
