BELDAR KA PURA | Affected people show property papers to stop bulldozers

Demolition of 45 houses put on hold after protest

FP News Service
GWALIOR

Tension escalated in Beldar Ka Pura, as an administration team arrived with JCB machines to demolish around 45 houses over alleged encroachment on government land. The sight of bulldozers approaching the residential area sparked anger, with residents coming forward to challenge the proposed action.

In a bid to stop the demolition, residents presented property registration documents, municipal corporation tax receipts, mutation records and papers related to loans financed by government banks before the officials. They questioned the move, arguing that the documents in their possession supported their claims over the properties.

As the confrontation intensified, SDM Narendra Babu reached the spot. With residents opposing the action and property documents being presented, the administration put the demolition drive on hold. The proposed action against the houses has been suspended pending further court orders.

District panel formed to curb stubble burning

FP News Service
MORENA

Collector Lokesh Kumar Jangid has constituted a district-level committee to monitor and prevent stubble burning and ensure compliance with state government directions.

The committee will include the concerned SDM, district panchayat CEO, agriculture officer, tehsildar, senior agricultural development officer and chief municipal officer. It will monitor incidents, spread awareness among farmers and coordinate enforcement.

Farmers will be encouraged to manage crop residue through alternatives such as making straw.

Contractors face final notice over delays

FP News Service
MORENA

Additional secretary, Public Health Engineering Department, KVS Choudhary reviewed the progress of Jal Jeevan Mission works in Morena in the presence of collector Lokesh Kumar Jangid. He directed officials to expedite delayed tap-water schemes, ensure construction quality and resolve bottlenecks promptly. Contractors showing poor progress or lack of interest should be issued final notices, he said. If they fail to improve within the stipulated period, action, including termination of contracts, should be taken as per agreement conditions. Officials were also directed to regularly monitor physical progress and ensure timely benefits to rural residents.

Two groups clash over land

Gwalior: A land dispute between two groups escalated into a gunfight in the Mohana police station area, with both sides allegedly opening fire at each other. The incident took place on land situated along the highway in front of Janpad Hotel in Ward 14. A video of the incident has surfaced, showing people arriving at the disputed site with a JCB machine and coming under fire. The footage has brought the exchange of gunfire into focus as police investigate the circumstances surrounding the dispute. Acting on complaints filed by both sides, police have registered cross-FIRs in the case. The investigation is underway, and police are working to identify and trace the accused involved in the firing. Further action will follow based on the findings of the investigation.

Minor student alleges rape, intimidation

FP News Service
GWALIOR

A 17-year-old student has allegedly been raped and threatened with the circulation of a video of the incident by a young man in Gwalior. Police have registered an FIR against the suspect, identified as Aarush Mishra, under rape-related provisions and the POCSO Act.

According to police, the minor approached police station and lodged a complaint against Mishra, alleging that he raped her and recorded a video of the incident.

The student further alleged that Mishra threatened to circulate the video publicly and used it to pressure her. The threats reportedly caused her significant mental distress, following which she approached police to report the matter.

Acting on the complaint, police registered an FIR against Mishra under the relevant provisions relating to rape and the POCSO Act, as the complainant is below 18 years of age.

Police have initiated an investigation into the allegations and are gathering evidence to establish the sequence of events. Investigators will examine the minor's statement, the alleged crime scene and other material relevant to the case.

The allegations concerning the recording and threatened circulation of the video are also being examined as part of the investigation.

Police are working to verify the circumstances surrounding the alleged assault and the threats mentioned in the complaint.

Five injured in land dispute

FP News Service
MORENA

Five members of a family were injured, three seriously, in a clash over a land dispute in Shikhara village under Nagara police station area on Friday.

Police said Bunty Gurjar, 36, was returning after delivering milk when more than a dozen people allegedly attacked him near his home. Firing was also reported.

His father Mahendra Singh, mother Savitri Devi, wife Nirma and uncle Kapoor Singh were injured when they intervened.

Bunty, Nirma and Mahendra were referred to the district hospital after first aid at Porsa Hospital.

Preliminary information suggests the dispute relates to around seven bighas of land. Police have registered a case and begun an investigation.

Raisins worth Rs 1L seized

FP News Service
MORENA

Ahead of Diwali, the Food Department has intensified inspections across Morena to prevent the sale of adulterated and substandard food products. During one such inspection, officials seized 375 kg of raisins worth approximately Rs 1 lakh from a shop on Mill Area Road.

Acting on the District Collector's instructions, Food Safety Officer Avnish Gupta inspected Shri Amrapur Traders, owned by Hariom Goyal. The team collected samples of raisins stored at the shop and seized the stock pending investigation.

Officials said the samples would be sent to a laboratory for quality testing. Further action will depend on the findings of the laboratory report.

With Diwali approaching, demand for sweets, dry fruits and other food items has increased across the district. To ensure consumers receive safe products, the Food Department has launched inspections at shops and food establishments.

Teams are checking food products and collecting samples to identify possible adulteration and quality violations. Officials said the department aims to prevent traders from selling unsafe or substandard products during the festive season. Appropriate action will be taken against establishments found violating food safety standards.

Probe begins into Sheetla Mata truck accident

Gwalior: A magisterial inquiry has begun into the truck accident near the main gate of Sheetla Mata Temple on the night of October 18, which claimed 16 lives.

Collector and District Magistrate Ruchika Chauhan has appointed Additional District Magistrate (ADM) CB Prasad as the inquiry officer. The investigation will examine the circumstances that led to the accident. Prasad has invited independent and impartial witnesses with no direct personal interest in the case to submit evidence on October 26, 27 and 28. They can appear before the ADM at Court Room No. 201 between noon and 4 pm. No evidence will be accepted after the stipulated dates. The accident occurred between 1 am and 1.30 am when an out-of-control speeding truck struck people near the temple's main gate.

No permits for firecracker manufacturing in Morena

Morena: Collector Lokesh Kumar Jangid said no licence has been issued for manufacturing firecrackers in Morena and warned of strict action against illegal units. At a meeting with sellers, he directed shops to maintain prescribed distances, keep fire extinguishers and avoid crowded areas. Sale of banned carbide guns and carbide will invite action. Sellers were also asked to prioritise green firecrackers and strictly follow safety norms during festivals.

AI e-checkgates to monitor mineral transport

Morena: An AI-based unmanned e-checkgate system has been introduced to curb illegal mining and mineral transportation in Morena. Collector Lokesh Kumar Jangid said radio frequency identification (RF) tags are mandatory for registered mineral transport vehicles under state rules.

Vehicle owners can obtain RF tags from the mineral department. Vehicles found transporting minerals without tags will face action under the rules.

Jabalpur

Experts flag risks near Balancing Rock

FP News Service
JABALPUR

Construction near Jabalpur's Balancing Rock has raised concerns over the safety of the natural landmark on Madan Mahal hills. A multi-storey building is allegedly being constructed about 20 feet from the rock.

Social activist PG Nazpande claimed that around 30 acres under Khasra No. 194 were recorded as government land in 1910, while only 0.8 hectare remains around the site. He demanded scrutiny of revenue records, mutations and construction permissions.

Archaeological expert Manohar Singh Uike said vibrations from heavy machinery and inadequate drainage could affect the surrounding land, though any threat could be established only through a technical assessment.

Tourism department regional manager Naveen Sharma said conservation was the archaeology department's responsibility, while archaeology department senior guide Rajkumar said the site was under the district administration.

Municipal Corporation building officer Shailendra Singh Kaurav said he was unaware of nearby construction and promised an inquiry if a complaint was received.

Two power officials face FIR

FP News Service
JABALPUR

Police have registered a case against electricity department assistant engineer MP Vishwakarma and lineman Praveen Dahiya after two youths died of electrocution near Narila pond in Majhauli.

The incident occurred on Wednesday night during immersion of a Mata Mahakali idol when its iron frame allegedly touched a high-tension line. More than half a dozen people were also injured.

The short post-mortem report of Vikas Rajput cited electrocution as the cause of death.

Police booked the two under Sections 106(1) and 125(A) of the BNS. Residents had protested, alleging prior warnings about the power line were ignored.

Outsourced hospital staff allege fee demand

FP News Service
JABALPUR

Outsourced employees working at the district hospital have submitted representations to the district collector and National Health Mission (NHM), Madhya Pradesh, alleging that CEDMAP personnel demanded Rs 750 from them for document verification, uniform and identity cards.

Employees, requesting anonymity, alleged they were threatened with dismissal if they failed to pay. Some have already deposited the amount, while others cited financial difficulties.

They also expressed concern that Rs 6,000 could be deducted from salaries towards uniforms.

The employees have submitted complaints to the district collector, NHM mission director and CEDMAP, Jabalpur, seeking intervention in the matter.

PT Usha recalls sporting journey

Jabalpur: PT Usha recalled her sporting journey, saying hard work helped her win 103 international medals despite limited facilities.

"I've received honors like the Arjuna Award and the Padma Shri, but the fact that people still recognize me and give me so much love is the biggest reward for me," she said. Usha said she began playing at 13 and participated in the Moscow Olympics at 16. Her Olympic medal dream remained unfulfilled after she missed a medal by one-hundredth of a second. She later founded the Usha School of Athletics in Kerala, where 25 athletes now train free of cost. Usha said sports also gave her opportunities to become a Rajya Sabha MP and president of the Indian Olympic Association.

BJP MLA questions government over corridor

FP News Service
JABALPUR

BJP MLA and former minister Ajay Vishnoi has again targeted the state government, this time over the proposed industrial corridor in Jabalpur.

In a post on X, Vishnoi said part of his constituency was included in the corridor, but he was not consulted while the plan was prepared. He said he learnt about the project through photographs published in newspapers.

Vishnoi also questioned which industries were expected to come to his constituency and what land had been identified for them. He said he had been waiting for industries to materialise since the first investors' meet.

HC seeks revised module on shifting nursing students

FP News Service
JABALPUR

The High Court on Friday directed the Madhya Pradesh Nursing Registration Council to share its proposal for shifting students from ineligible colleges with the petitioners.

A division bench of Justice Anand Pathak and Justice BP Sharma also asked the council to submit a revised module after considering objections, petitioner's counsel Vishal Baghel said.

The council had submitted a status report and module on transfer and double-shift training of students. Advocates Alok Wagrecha and Vishal Baghel raised concerns over transparency, student choice, infrastructure and training costs.

They also sought recovery of education expenses through bank guarantees of ineligible colleges.

The PIL, filed by the Law Students' Association, seeks uniformity and quality in nursing education. The next hearing is on Nov 3, 2026.

Four men rob woman of jewellery

FP News Service
JABALPUR

Four men allegedly entered a house in Pragya Vihar Colony, Khitauli, and robbed a woman of jewellery after gagging her while her husband was away for immersion.

The victim, Aarti Vishwakarma, told police that the men entered the house and took her mangalsutra, gold rings and other valuables. The stolen jewellery is estimated to be worth Rs 2 lakh to Rs 2.5 lakh.

Khitauli police registered an FIR on her complaint and started an investigation into the robbery.

Police are examining the circumstances of the break-in and trying to identify and trace the suspects involved.

Additional SP Anjana Tiwari said police were investigating the case and further action would be taken based on the evidence collected.

Retired forest employee loses Rs 9.8 lakh

Jabalpur: A 69-year-old retired forest department employee from Yadav Colony allegedly lost Rs 9.80 lakh in an online banking fraud. Pratibha Shrivastava told police that two transactions of Rs 4.90 lakh each were made from her SBI account. She contacted cyber helpline 1930 and changed her ATM PIN, but another deduction followed. Bank officials allegedly said the money was transferred to another account in her name, but no funds were found there.
